Stanley Thornton (left) with PCC instructor Mike Cobb

PCC Student Stanley Thornton nominated for Dallas Herring Award

While enrolled in high school equivalency classes, Stanley contemplated other opportunities that were available at PCC – opportunities that would expand his skillset as he prepared for the changing workforce. He dual enrolled in the Certified Logistics Technician (CLT) Orientation class and soon successfully completed the CLT and OSHA Forklift Operator training. During this time, Stanley was also teaching a lifelong lesson... his six children were watching closely and learning about determination and the power of education – no matter the age. “I wanted to teach my kids that it’s never too late to better your life.”
