7.13 Student Fees

Last Revised: April 2015

Policy: Piedmont Community College charges Student Fees each semester to students attending the College. Student fees are considered to be in addition to tuition and registration fees.

Purpose/Definitions: Student fees provide funds for items and services not covered by tuition and registration fees.

Student Activity Fees are charged to support student activities. Non-curriculum students are not required to pay the fee, but have an option to do so if they wish to participate in student activity programs.

Technology Fees are charged to support the procurement, operation of, and repair of instructional technology including supplies and materials that accompany the technology.

Campus Access Fees are charged to use the campus facilities, including parking, and to access College resources through distance learning.

Student Liability Fees are charged to students whose course of study requires malpractice liability insurance.

Registration Fees are charged to students for Occupational Extension courses or Self-Support courses.

Card Fees are charged to students for cards issued for licenses or certification by professional affiliated organizations.

Testing Fees are charged to student for assessments and tests for licensure exams, certification tests, high school equivalency tests, and test registration.

Approval Authority/Monitoring Authority: Piedmont Community College’s Board of Trustees has approval authority for this policy. The Vice President, Instruction and Student Development and the Vice President, Continuing Education have monitoring authority for this policy.

Procedure:

1. Students are apprised of and pay for fees during the registration process.
2. Increases in Student Fees must be approved by the Piedmont Community College Board of Trustees and adhere to the State Board of Community Colleges Code (see citations below).
3. Refer to Piedmont Community College’s website for the most recent student fees.
